

SIR WILLIAM BURNETT'S PATENT,
FOR THE PRESERVATION OF
TIMBER, CANVAS, CORDAGE,
COTTON, WOOLLEN, &c.,
FROM
DRY-ROT, MILDEW, MOTH, AND PREMATURE DECAY.

IT has ever been a great desideratum to obtain some means of preserving Timber, Sails, Cordage, Cotton, and Woollen from Dry Rot, Mildew, Moth, and the destructive influence of the elements. SIR WILLIAM BURNETT, Physician-General of the Navy, whose attention in the course of his public duty had been long drawn to the various, but hitherto ineffectual means resorted to for the preservation of the Ships, Sails, and Cordage of the Royal Navy, at length happily discovered a compound, which unites every object sought for by the most sanguine. This discovery he has submitted, as well to the strongest individual and comparative tests by scientific gentlemen, as to the severest trials under his own personal inspection, and the result leaves no doubt of its being adequate to all the desired purposes.

The immense importance of the discovery is too obvious to require being dwelt upon here; but, of the Chemical preparation now placed before the Public, it may certainly (upon full proof) be stated, that it will protect and preserve Timber, Cordage, Canvas, Cotton, Woollen, and similar substances, from Dry Rot, Mildew, Moth, and the elements of decay, whether arising from damp, want of atmospheric circulation, or exposure to weather and sea-water, AGAINST THE INFLUENCE OF THE LATTER OF WHICH, IT IS BELIEVED, THAT NO OTHER SPECIFIC HAS BEEN YET DISCOVERED.

Experiments, the most trying in their nature, have been invariably followed by results the most satisfactory and conclusive. Specimens of prepared and unprepared Timber, and also of Canvas, Cordage, and Woollen Cloth have been subjected to the severe tests of the Fungus Pit at Woolwich Dock-yard, and of other suitable places, for various periods, under official superintendence; and, upon after-inspection, the prepared were found unaffected, whilst the unprepared were in a state of decay.

As regards Timber, Cordage, Canvas, and Woollen Cloth prepared with this Compound, the trials which these articles have undergone, most incontestibly prove the superiority of this process over any other in use, and establish the fact, that SALT-WATER, SO FAR FROM HASTENING THE DECAY OF ARTICLES PREPARED UNDER THIS PROCESS, OR FROM NEUTRALIZING ITS EFFECTS, HAS, ON THE CONTRARY, THE QUALITY OF INCREASING ITS EFFICACY; a property which cannot fail to ensure encouragement commensurate with its vast importance to the Maritime Interests of the Country; whilst its general adaption for use Ashore and Afloat, must command the patronage both of the Landed and Maritime Interests, and ultimately lead to universal adoption.

This process is, moreover, perfectly 'innocuous, and cannot by possibility endanger health, either in its preparation, or in its application: all the Timbers and Ceiling of a Ship may, therefore, be impregnated with the solution, without the slightest prejudicial effect to the crowded inmates. It purifies Bilge-water. IT RETARDS THE OXYDATION OF METALS, as has been proved by experiments repeatedly made upon Copper and Iron Bolts, with the most satisfactory results, some of which may be seen at the Office. And further, this valuable preparation is comparatively unexpensive in its use.

This preparation is now, after having been carefully tested by the Local Authorities, in extensive use for Ship-building, Cordage, and Canvass, in Her Majesty's Dock-yards.

Various testimonials in proof of the efficacy of this Patent can be given on application to the Agents, Messrs. F. W. JERNINGHAM and Co., 2, Winkle Street, Southampton.

* Station for Tanks, Northam Wharf, where Timber of all dimensions, Canvas, Cordage, and all Articles of Woollen Manufacture, such as Horse Clothing, Blankets, Druggets, &c. &c., which are liable to Moth, are received for Preparation.*

N.B. Contracts for the above entered into, and Tanks erected in any part of the Country.

SAFETY HORSE SHOE.

RODWAY'S PATENT CONCAVE HORSE SHOES

Will be found of incalculable advantage in preventing slipping and all its dangerous consequences.

They enable the horse to take a firm and secure grip upon the earth, thereby greatly increasing the power, freedom, and safety of his action. Every individual desirous of promoting the comfort of the horse and safety of the traveller is interested in procuring their general adoption. They have undergone the most rigid tests, and have received the approbation of the highest authorities in the kingdom. Any smith can make them, and the charge for licence is extremely moderate.

The Patent Rolled Iron may be procured in bars of any size or strength, to suit the feet of different horses.

 For LICENCES and the PATENT IRON, apply to Messrs. F. W. JERNINGHAM & CO., 2, Winkle Street, Southampton.*

VAUCHER'S
PATENT WOVEN HOSE, WITHOUT SEAM,
FOR
CONVEYING FLUIDS UNDER PRESSURE
ANY DISTANCE,

WHEN APPLIED TO
FORCE PUMPS, FIRE and GARDEN ENGINES,
&c.

THE Patent WOVEN HOSE, without seam, is water-tight, and resists the pressure of the most powerful force pumps; it may be made of any diameter or length desired; it requires no trouble to be kept in good condition; its price is considerably less than one half the cost of rivetted leather piping; and is adapted as well to horticultural purposes as to the various uses to which leather hose is generally applied. For tropical climates it will be found invaluable, its superiority over leather being so manifest, that where the WOVEN HOSE requires no particular care for its preservation, and receives no injury from the influence of the sun, the leather is only preserved from immediate destruction by the continued application of greasy matter, which is attended with much expense; and should any neglect take place in adopting that precaution, it would be rendered useless in a very short time. The Patent Hose has undergone many severe trials of its application to various purposes. Her Majesty's Board of Ordnance have tested the efficacy of its resisting power, and several of the principal fire police establishments in England have adopted it for the use of their engines or force pumps; the St. George's, the City of Dublin, the Pacific Steam Packet or Navigation Companies, &c., have it on board of their ships, and it may now be found in constant use at various other places, such as water-works, and some of the railway stations, as well as at several breweries, and the principal horticulturists.

FIRE BUCKETS

Are also manufactured from this Hose, which, for their portability, strength, and lightness, are far superior to leather or copper. When stowed away, twelve Buckets do not occupy more than a space of one cubic foot.

Further particulars may be obtained on application to

"This is an interesting essay upon a class of diseases difficult of cure, and often attended with great inconvenience and suffering to the patient. The mode of treatment recommended by the author is novel, and, as far as we can judge, likely to be attended with success. The results of several cases are given, by which it appears that many troublesome sores have been rapidly cured upon the author's plan, which is exceedingly simple, and founded upon sound surgical and physiological principles. This little book deserves the attention of the profession and the public."

MRS. LEJEUNE'S SPECIFIC FOR THE

WHOOPING COUGH,

Highly recommended as a valuable Family Medicine

IN CASES OF COMMON COUGH, ASTHMA, &c.

---

The Proprietress of this excellent Medicine has dispensed it gratuitously for upwards of 20 years, and with pleasing satisfaction assures the afflicted that a speedy relief and effectual cure has invariably been the result, in cases most obstinate and dangerous, after other medicines had completely failed. The value of an antidote against a disease so formidable is more satisfactorily shown by the Testimonies of Persons who have been cured than by the recommendation of those interested in its success; the Proprietress, therefore, solicits public attention to the following inscription:—"This Lamp, as a memento of gratitude to Mrs. Lejeune, from the poor, of Romsey, was presented September 19th, 1839, for her kind and gratuitous distribution of a Specific for the Whooping Cough, which, under Divine blessing, cured, in 1837, 440; in 1838, 530; and in 1839, 720 persons."

Sold by Mrs. Lejeune, at her Patent and Family Medicine Warehouse, Romsey, in Bottles, 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d., with her address on the seal, and signature on the government stamp; also, by W. and E. Lejeune, 8, Bernard Street; Mr. Randall, Fletcher and Co., and Mr. J. Mordaunt, Southampton; and all respectable Medicine Vendors.

SUPERIOR FAMILY MOURNING.

Funerals completely Furnished and conducted on the same principle as during the last eighty years.

J. E. T. begs to return sincere thanks to those Ladies and Gentlemen who have so largely patronised him since his commencement, and begs to solicit their continued support. Having lived with Messrs. Halling, Pearce, and Stone, Waterloo House, Pall Mall, and others of the largest London houses, for many years, has enabled him to become acquainted with the best and most approved fabrics, of which knowledge he will be particular in availing himself.

J. E. T. will continue to keep the same superior stock of Irish Linens, Table Linens, Sheetings, &c., (in conjunction with a larger assortment of Fancy Goods), as have gained for this house such unrivalled celebrity, and by selling them at prices co-equal with the reductions of the times, trusts to receive that increase of patronage which it will be his constant desire to merit.
